

Time Taken vs Size

There could be several reasons for a bottleneck. For starters, we are using a max buffer size of 256 bytes, which is quite small and when used for larger files, becomes a large bottleneck. Additionally, we are moving each piece of the file in series, which is quite slow as it has to transfer each one in front of the other.